The aim of the Coburg Bar's whisky compendium is to keep a fluid, flowing menu to showcase the ever-changing face of the whisky world. Although we endeavour to keep certain expressions consistent, due to the nature of production, certain products may not always be available. We all truly hope you enjoy drinking as much as we enjoy searching! Slainte!

WHISKY COMPENDIUM

"Too much of anything is bad, but too much good whiskey is barely enough." Mark Twain

All whiskies are served in 50ml measures unless otherwise stated or requested.

AMERICAN & CANADIAN WHISKEY

Whiskey from North America has established a distinctively different flavour profile compared to European whisky. In the United States and Canada, the focus is laid more upon corn, rye and wheat as opposed to barley as a base material. Combined with different distilling and ageing techniques whiskey from across the pond is emerging as a generation's favourite.

TROLLEY SELECTION

Experience an array of flavours that are locked inside your chosen whisky. Below we have carefully selected a range of standout whiskies that we felt compelled to highlight.

THE MACALLAN

The Macallan distillery is synonymous with sherry cask maturation. Ever since the foundation by Alexander Reid in 1824 this Speyside based distillery tried to perfect this fabulous ageing method, with fantastic results.

Macallan 18yo Sherry Oak 43%, Speyside	£93
Macallan Speymalt 2002 (G&M) 57.3%, Speyside	£175

BOWMORE

Bowmore has made a name for itself as the 'Queen of Islay' over the years. We sourced bottles from different vintages in order to be able to showcase how the comparatively lower peating levels give way to a distinctively fragrant, tropical fruity and coastal core.

Bowmore 1968 32yo 45.5%, Islay	£1,350
Bowmore 21yo Master's Selection 51.8%, Islay	£129
Bowmore 1998 (btl. 2022 by BB&R) 50.2%, Islay	£135

MAKER'S MARK

Created by William 'Bill' Samuels Sr, it took six years of trial and error to perfect the recipe that makes this Bourbon whiskey so special. A true American dream story, Maker's Mark is nowadays known worldwide for its balanced and creamy character.

Wood Finishing Series FAE-01 2021 55.3% abv, Loretto, KY	£52

LAPHROAIG

Laphroaig (Gaelic for 'beautiful hollow by the broad bay') can definitely be described as one of the most flavourful whiskies of Scotland. Laphroaig's arguably divisive, smoky, and earthy profile has not been replicated anywhere else on earth and stands today as a flagship of Islay Single Malt Scotch Whisky.

Laphroaig 15yo 200 th Anniversary 43%, Islay	£76
Laphroaig 33yo Ian Hunter Story 49.9%, Islay	£375
Laphroaig 1997 Highgrove 40%, Islay	£150

HIGHLAND PARK

Situated in the most northern corner of Scotland on the rugged and storm-lashed Orkney Island, Highland Park distillery uses the highly unique, fragrant and herbal Orcadian peat for their delicately smoky whiskies. A great introduction to the world of peated whiskies.

Highland Park 2003 16yo (The Nectar) 52.5%, Orkney Islands	£50
Highland Park 21yo 46%, Orkney Islands	£73
Highland Park 30yo 45.7%, Orkney Islands	£250

Highland Park 1967 43%, Orkney Islands	£390
Highland Park 1977 Bicentenary 40%, Orkney Islands	£180

THE GLENROTHES

The Glenrothes distillery has been quietly producing an authentic and soft single malt since 1879 in a hidden valley, deep in the heart of the Speyside region. Drawing the water from the Burn of Rothes, there is a certain rustic elegance surrounding the distillery that many whisky connoisseurs have appreciated over the last decade.

Glenrothes 1999 19yo Single Cask #8168 58.9%, Speyside	£70
Glenrothes 1987 bottles 2005 43%, Speyside	£98
Glenrothes 1972 Restricted Release 43%, Speyside	£370

JAPANESE WHISKY

The last decade has seen the biggest increase in demand for Japanese whisky. Nowadays older bottlings are extremely hard to come by and highly sought after. Crafted after the Scottish whisky model, Japanese whisky has a very distinct character of its own. Using only the purest water the final product is extremely soft and elegant.

SCOTTISH GRAIN WHISKY

Grain whisky can be based on a variety of grains-not solely malted barley- and is distilled in huge continuous column stills. This speeds up the distillation process and creates a light and delicate spirit. Most of this production will be used for the Blended Whisky industry however sometimes a few extraordinary bottles of single grain whisky can be found.

Carsebridge 48yo 1970, 43.2%, Lowlands

£215

This might very well be one of the last bottles of this long-closed distillery. As most of its production was used as a component for blended whiskies, only a few barrels remained to be released as a Single Grain Whisky. Aged entirely in American oak casks, notes of dried flowers, custard and orange oil are very evident.

IRISH WHISKEY

Traditionally closely linked to Scotch however very different in style. A mixture of malted & unmalted barley and a combination of pot stills and column stills give Irish whiskies their pronounced personality.

SCOTTISH WHISKY

'Uisge Beatha', the water of life. That's how the old Scotsmen and women called their national drink. Even in these hectic modern times many will find this a fitting term for whisky. First distilled in Scotland and Ireland over 500 years ago it gradually became one of the world's most diverse, complex, and intriguing spirits.

SCOTTISH SINGLE MALT

At the Coburg Bar we give emphasis to Single Malt Whisky from Scotland as we believe it is the most expressive whisky category. Our selection is divided by cask ageing rather than region in order to showcase varied flavour profiles.

SCOTTISH BLENDED MALT WHISKY

As the name suggests, Scottish blended malt whisky describes a whisky that has been created by combining different malt whiskies from various distilleries. As opposed to single malt whiskies-where the malt whisky can only come from one distillery- blended malts generally have more freedom when it comes to blending and can therefore offer new and extremely unique flavour profiles.

Cladach Special Release 2018 57.1%	£38

Bunnahabhain 1998 Calvados Finish 49.7%, Islay

£110

A rarity indeed from the hidden Bunnahabhain distillery on the Isle of Islay. After maturing for 21 years in ex-bourbon casks this single malt was treated to a finishing period for 2 years in unique Calvados casks from Normandy. Expect an extremely fruity and oily scotch with notes of crunchy green apples, toffee and a wonderful salinity.
